IntelCenter Database (ICD)

- Students can watch events directly instead of just reading about them
- Data can be used to support regional and threat actor studies as well as more specific areas such as tactics, targets, messaging and more
- Students ability to conduct research is greatly expanded beyond journal and Internet searches by giving them instant access to group's messaging history, video material, still photography and more
- Enables professors to build new exercises and classes to develop subject matter knowledge and learn analytical skills involving pattern, frequency, quantitative analysis and more
- Enhances research work being conducted by professors
- Up-to-the-minute updates allow courses to integrate developments as they occur
- Immediate access to a wealth of raw terrorist material and incident data spanning decades

IntelCenter Database (ICD)

- Customized push reports for professors and students working on special projects
 - Allows user to receive by email PDF reports relevant to their country or terrorist/rebel group of interest
- Periodic & Upon Request Specialized PDF reports on topics such as:
 - All audio/video releases by an Emir

CTI Average

The CTI examines the volume of terrorist and rebel alerts, messaging traffic, videos, photos, incidents and the number killed and injured in a country over the past 30 days and runs it through an algorithm to assign the country its CTI. The higher the CTI the greater the risk. A low CTI does not necessarily reflect the absence of risk as the US in the lead-up to 9-11 would have had a low CTI. It does, however, reflect a lower level of activity over the preceding 30 days which means high-volume activity is unlikely but one-off events are always a possibility. The CTI should never be the sole measure of risk in a country but rather one factor to take into consideration. The CTI is based solely on terrorist and rebel related activity. It does not evaluate other risk factors such as crime and political instability. The Global CTI is arrived at by adding up each individual country's CTI. It serves as an overall indicator of global terrorist and rebel activity. The CTI Average is the average CTI for all countries with a CTI greater than zero. The Highest and Lowest CTI's reflect the highest and lowest CTI's for any one country in this report. All individual data points used to arrive at the CTI score are available in the ICD. Hit the update button next to each country to get the latest ranking.

Capabilities

Feb. 2014: estimates 2,000-3,000 strong force with at least 300 Saudi Arabian nationals

Suicide-bombings, assassinations targeting government and military figures, attacks on military checkpoints, kidnappings

Goals & Intentions

Overthrow Yemeni and Saudi Arabian governments and replace them with a fundamentalist Islamist state, coupled with al-Qaeda's vision of global jihad.

Supports Salafi rebel group in Yemen and opposes Salafi opponent, the al-Huthi group

Area of Operation

8 Jul. 2014: set up new camp in Lahij at Jabal Arf in the Ma'baq area of Al-Maqatrah District overlooking many areas including Al-Mudanbah and Tawr al-Jabab. The mountainous camp will be used for training and also expected to provide a safe haven for leading Al-Qa'dah figures. According to local sources, Al-Qa'dah chose this area because of its strategic location between Ta'izz and Ibb governorates, its proximity to Bab al-Mandab, and its tough terrain, the report said. The sources were also reported to have said that the Al-Qa'dah militants had received assistance from tribal chieftains in

5,105	2,229	0	914	6

The GTI examines the volume of terrorist and rebel alerts, messaging traffic, videos, photos, incidents and the number killed and injured by a group over the past 30 days and runs it through an algorithm to assign the group its GTI. The higher the GTI the greater the risk posed by the group. The GTI should never be the sole measure of threat posed by a group but rather one factor to take into consideration. The Global GTI is arrived at by adding up each individual group's GTI. It serves as an overall indicator of global terrorist and rebel activity. The GTI Average is the average GTI for all groups with a GTI greater than zero. The Highest and Lowest GTIs reflect the highest and lowest GTIs for any one group in this report. All individual data points used to arrive at the GTI score are available in the ICD. Hit the update button next to each country to get the latest ranking.

al-Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula (AQAP)

On 14 Jan. 2015, al-Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula's al-Malahim released a 11'45" video from AQAP senior figure Nasr al-Inisi. The video is entitled, "Vengeance for the Prophet: A Message Regarding the Blessed Battle of Paris". The video is in Arabic with English subtitles and was released with an Arabic and English Transcript.

In the video al-Inisi said, "We in the Organization of Qa'idatul Jihad in the Arabian Peninsula claim responsibility for this operation as a vengeance for the Messenger of Allah. We clarify to the ummah that the one who chose the target, laid the plan and financed the operation, is the leadership of the organization. We did it in compliance with the Command of Allah and supporting His Messenger - peace be upon him, then the order of our general amir, the generous Sheikh Aiman bin Muhammad Adhawhiri - may Allah preserve him, and following the will of Sheikh Usama bin Laden - may Allah have mercy on him. The arrangement with the amir of the operation were made by Sheikh Anwar Al-'Awlaki - may Allah have mercy on him, who threatens the West both in his life and after his martyrdom."

He added that Amedy Coulibaly was not part of the AQAP operation and that it was coincidence his attack happened at the same time. He said, "This blessed battle was carried out by two heroes of Islam, the Kouachi brothers Sharif and Sa'id - may Allah have mercy on them. It was a tawfeeq from Allah that the operation coincided with the operation of the Mujahid brother Ahmed Koulibali - may Allah have mercy on him. We ask Allah to accept them all among martyrs, and bless them the company of the Prophets."

Speaking about the result of the operation he said, "The result of the operation was the killing of a number of the newspaper's cartoonists, workers and guards. By the Grace of Allah, one of them was in the 'Wanted List' produced by Inspire Magazine with image and name. All praise is due to Allah for His Tawfeeq and Gratitude."

Speaking to the West he threatened further attacks saying, "We have warned you before about the consequences of these deeds that your governments collude with under the pretext of 'freedom of press' or 'freedom of ideas'. The freedom that is always tamed except when spreading vile and waging war on Allah and His Messengers and defaming the religion. As for those who call on to Tawheed (monotheism) and virtue, and contradicts with their desires, they are labelled 'callers to terrorism', 'anti-Semitic'. There is no stronger evidence than the issue of the Holocaust in which there is no room for freedom of expression or of ideas. Sheikh Usama bin Laden warned you before: "If there is no check on the freedom of your words, then let your hearts be open to the freedom of our actions. The answer is what you see, not what you hear." But your governments blocked their ears from this address. They became stubborn and persisted in protecting and supporting the offensive cartoonists, directors and journalists. Today, by the Grace of Allah, the Mujahideen have taken vengeance for their generous Prophet. They send a message through this operation to all who dare on the Muslim sanctities. We tell you once again: Stop your insults on our Prophet and sanctities. Stop spilling our blood. Leave our lands. Quit plundering our resources. Otherwise, by Allah, do not expect of us except tragedies and terror. You will look for peace and stability but you will not find it - because

On 14 Jan. 2015, al-Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula's al-Malahim released a 11'45" video from AQAP senior figure Nasr al-Inisi. The video is entitled, "Vengeance for the Prophet: A Message Regarding the Blessed Battle of Paris".

Speaking to the West al-Inisi threatened further attacks saying, "We have warned you before about the consequences of these deeds that your governments collude with under the pretext of 'freedom of press' or 'freedom of ideas'. The freedom that is always tamed except when spreading vile and waging war on Allah and His Messengers and defaming the religion. As for those who call on to Tawheed (monotheism) and virtue, and contradicts with their desires, they are labelled 'callers to terrorism', 'anti-Semitic'. There is no stronger evidence than the issue of the Holocaust in which there is no room for freedom of expression or of ideas. Sheikh Osama bin Laden warned you before: "If there is no check on the freedom of your words, then let your
